

Why Loopasana™ Loops are the best choice for your yoga practice?

Are you tired of fumbling with the buckle every time you want to use the conventional strap? Are you bothered by the excessive belt getting in the way while you try to concentrate on your pose? Are you frustrated that you cannot have a good grip of the strap because there is no defined hand grip or foot hold?

The Loopasana™ Loops are going to change all that.

Design

The Loops are designed with you in mind. The design is simple yet effective: just a closed loop with one or two internal knots. There is no buckle to fiddle with and no excessive belt dangling during your yoga practice. Hand grips and foot holds can be configured easily and quickly to meet your practice needs.

Versatility

Using the internal knot, you can change the size of the Loops easily and quickly. Loops will connect your body to your pose which will allow you to gain core awareness and build core strength. This translates to good alignment, steady progress, and greater ability for challenging poses. You can also extend the length of the loop by connecting one with another.

Function

The Loops are designed beyond your stretching need. They also function as a mat carrier whether for hand carry, over the shoulder or slung across your body, strapping your mat elegantly, securely and with style. As your mat carrier and personal exercise accessory, they are your constant companion wherever you go.
